

Overview:

Do you think you have what it takes to be one of the best ultrarunning coaches? CTS is hiring an endurance sports coach to work part or full-time coaching ultrarunning athletes. The right candidate will possess strong organizational and communication skills as well as a Bachelor's degree in Exercise Physiology. A passion for endurance sports and ultrarunning in particular are a must. Additionally, the right candidate must be willing to learn, challenge themselves and their colleagues to become the best coach they can be. If you are looking for a challenging, fast-paced learning environment where you can have a direct impact on an athlete's performance, this job is for you! All coaches are mentored by our senior coaching staff and adhere to CTS' quality assurance program.

Responsibilities:

1. Monitoring and developing athletes according to the CTS training methodology
2. Providing written and verbal feedback to athletes regarding all aspects of training
3. Conducting hands-on group and private camps with athletes when necessary
4. Attending events/races as a representative of the company
5. Giving informative lectures and presentations to the local community

Requirements:

1. B.S. degree in Exercise Physiology/Exercise Science or equivalent field of study
2. Extensive first-hand ultrarunning experience
3. Previous coaching experience is preferred
4. Ability to maintain an athlete load of at least 15 athletes
5. Preference for candidates with UESCA Ultrarunning certification

Compensation: This is a remote, contract position. Compensation is variable based on athlete load. Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the United States.

Company Overview:

A pioneering company in the endurance coaching industry CTS has improved the performance of more than 20,000 athletes since 2000. Founded by renowned coach and author Chris Carmichael, and home to more than 50 professional coaches, CTS seeks to change lives and ultimately the world, through the power of movement, healthy habits, knowledge, and inspiration. The company provides personal coaching, training camps, and Endurance Bucket List experiences to athletes of all ability levels. For more information, visit www.trainright.com.